The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, APRIL 9, 1867.

THE result of the great silk case will be in many ways looked upon with a good deal of satisfaction in Hongkong, chiefly because it vindicates Messrs. JARDINE, MATHESON & Co. entirely from that suspicion of sharp practice which rumor had endeavoured to fasten upon them. We believe that many of our readers will find it at first difficult to comprehend the merits of the case, and of the compromise which we described in our impression of yesterday, chiefly because it is impossible to do so while any remnants of the misrepresentations which had been put in circulation remain upon the mind. We believe that the majority of persons who have heard anything of this case before they begin to read the evidence, will have been impressed generally with the idea thatstated broadly the point was this, whether Messrs. JARDINE, MATHESON & Co. would find any way of justifying their act in alleging an old debt by CHE-QUAI to them as a set off against the silk obtained through him from the native silk-men. Now if they endeavour to understand the case by grouping the facts brought out in evidence around such a framework as this, they will certainly fail. It now appears plainly that no idea of doing anything in this transaction beyond simply purchasing the silk and paying for it, ever entered the minds of the partners in JARDINE'S. It appears that it was a delusion altogether to suppose that CHE-QUAI was heavily indebted to the firm, a delusion to suppose that they ever refused him payment for the goods. If it had not been for the failure of CHE-QUAI and of the NE-WO bank, there would have been nothing heard of this transaction at all; the silkmen would have received the money paid to CHE-QUAI and all would have gone on smoothly, until indeed the inevitable crash which must at some time or other have ensued from CHE-QUAI'S methods of doing business had taken place.

The actual facts appear to be these. The Shanghai partners received instructions from Hongkong to buy 600 bales of silk. They instructed their silk inspector Mr. ROBISON to make the purchase; he made the purchase of CHE-QUAI who it seems kept a large silk hong and was in the habit of doing business on a large scale with half a dozen different mercantile houses, and finally JARDINE'S paid for the silk by cheques on the Ne-wo bank which they believed to be perfectly solvent and in which they had actually lodged cash payments during the month of December, which together with the previous balance would have been more than sufficient to meet all the cheques drawn, leaving after their payment, a balance of Tls. 14,000 odd in favor of the firm. That story about the old debt from CHE-QUAI, and the plea of a set-off was a pure invention from beginning to end. But the Ne-wo bank was an institution of a most extraordinary kind in the hands of a most singular partnership, belonging, that is to say, to JARDINE'S, and a fraudulent Chinaman in common. Of course the fraudulent Chinaman was believed by his confiding partners to be an angel of purity, and in the enormous transactions which he had had with the firm previously, nothing had transpired to show that he was in any way dishonest. Nevertheless this hardly justifies the boundless trust which the firm imposed in him, and the dazzling temptations to which they constantly exposed him. The state of the bank was, to speak practically, never investigated. A statement of profit and loss was periodically laid before Mr. FRANK JOHNSON, but it does not appear that its truth was tested in any way. CHE-QUAI in short, managed at his own will and pleasure, and did precisely what he liked with the funds of a bank in which JARDINES' were known to be partners. By virtue of this bank arrangement he was in effect a partner in JARDINE, MATHESON & Co., a more independent partner than any other in the firm, for he had the credit of the whole firm to work with and was free to go into any operations he pleased without consulting any human creature.

Although partners in the bank Messrs. JARDINE'S kept an account there, made cash payments to their account and drew cheques, the management of this account being in the hands of Mr. PETRIE, the bookkeeper, whose evidence as to the payment made into the account during the month of December to meet the silk cheques, is alone sufficient to overthrow the stories put in circulation in Shanghai previous to the trial. Now all the cheques drawn to pay for the 600 bales of silk were returned endorsed by the bank as having been paid, and it is admitted that all except the last two cheques, one for Tls. 100,000 and another for Tls. 75,000, were actually cashed by CHE-QUAI out of Messrs. JARDINE'S balance, but when the last two were presented there were no more assets left in the bank. What CHE-QUAI had done with them (and what, by the way, will now be done with him) we do not know. The bank had collapsed and the only marvellous part of the matter is that is does not appear to have any heavy involvements of its own. Mr. E. WHITTALL in his evidence says that no claims have been made on him on account of the bank. Certainly the firm has escaped a terrible danger. To be partners with a man who can be called in open court of justice a "rogue," and whose dealings amount to millions of taels and range over all the articles of commerce, is a state of things that might even have made JARDINE, MATHESON & Co. tremble. But to resume, the silkmen admit, in the private negotiations which have been going on independently of the trial, that CHE-QUAI was bona fide paid for all the silk except that to which the last Tls. 175,000 related, and they also admit that such a payment although they have not profited by it, was in law a payment to them. That they have lost the money, they accept as their share of the misfortune for having had to do with CHE-QUAI, but they said that the Tls. 175,000 had not been paid because when the cheques were given to CHE-QUAI, the bank was already in reality insolvent and the cheques were consequently waste paper. Now it will be seen what it is which JARDINES' finally agreed to do. In effect they pay this sum over again and they receive from the Silk Guild all CHE-QUAI'S assets so that they may recover what they can of the money he has stolen. The assets we understand, consisting of goods up the country, balances due to CHE-QUAI from various foreign houses in Shanghai and so forth, are not really worth the Tls. 175,000 which JARDINES' pay to the Guild. Still they are admitted to be worth over Tls. 100,000 and in this way the loss that JARDINE, MATHESON & Co. really suffer is comparatively small. The heavy burden of the loss in spite of the second payment of the Tls. 175,000 falls upon the Silk Guild.

The new programme of the Japanese Troupe was performed last evening for the first time and although the weather was fine the audience was not so numerous as might have been expected, but those who were present seemed thoroughly to appreciate the entertainment provided for them. The Butterfly Trick was again exhibited, but the new feat by Sh'ing-go-so of balancing a ladder on the soles of his feet and allowing a boy to walk up and down it certainly exhibits the remarkable balancing power possessed by these extraordinary people. The walking on slim sharp pointed stakes is an unpleasant performance to witness as one is led to think what would be the consequence were the performer to fall down on them as she did last night without however apppearing to hurt herself very much. The rest of the performance gave general satisfaction and it is to be hoped that as only two more opportunities will be given of seeing these strange and wonderful feats, that there will be a fuller attendance.

The Tea Trade.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SIR,—The subject of the present letter would perhaps more properly have been brought before the Chamber of Commerce, but the deliberations of that august assembly have hitherto been so barren of any profitable issue, that I prefer to solicit a little space in your valuable columns.

That the China of the present day is not the El Dorado of former years is too painfully known to all, and it behoves us earnestly to consider the causes which have led to the late general losses, and the change that has come over the spirit of our Trade.

Without attempting at present to enter upon the graver questions connected with over-trading, I would point out one evil that merits attention, and particularly so at the present time.

I refer to the practice of engaging tonnage in the first Tea Clippers from Foochow before the Teas are bought.

The rate of Freight obtained by these vessels depends no doubt on the proportion of the supply to the demand, and it is not at the occasionally excessive rate that I would cavil, but when once the tonnage is engaged here, the agent in Foochow has no alternative but to buy the Tea at current opening rates, however, much it may be against his own judgment and inclination, and against the views and interests of the people at home, on whose account the Teas are bought. In the case of houses buying on Commission, the evil is apt to be increased in as much as being compelled to fulfil their tonnage engagements, they are forced to purchase independent of any limits as to price that they may have received, and the result is that the Cha-sze looks on the Chops submitted to him with favoring eyes, and Teas in China acquire a value considerably beyond that placed upon them when musters reach London.

This state of things no doubt originated in former years when the arrivals by the first ship commanded a better price than those brought by her less speedy rivals, but in these days of shipments by steamers round the Cape, and by the Overland Route, this is not the case, as is proved by the determination now arrived at not to allow the hitherto customary ten shillings extra freight to the first vessel. There is therefore now no reason for this eagerness to secure freight, and if the merchants who are the agents for the clipper ships would combine to lay the vessels on the berth at Foochow, and to refuse all applications for freight until the tea market is opened, the ships would obtain an equally good rate, and the present obnoxious custom come to an end.

Although combination is opposed to that spirit of Free Trade which is the distinguishing glory of English commerce, yet at times it has been found a beneficial corrective to undue competition, in proof of which I would instance the amalgamation of the conflicting interests engaged in steam traffic on the Canton and Yangtsze waters, and more particularly the argument recently entered into by the owners and agents of steamers running between this port and Shanghai. It may be objected that these cases were for the benefit of the shipowners, and that the interests of shipowners and of merchants are necessarily antagonistic, but a combination such as I have mentioned would not be adverse to the shipowner while it would operate most beneficially in favor of the merchant.

It is possible there may be reasons why the plan thus suggested would not answer the desired end, but I am sure no one interested in Tea during the past few years will deny the objectionable working of the present system, and I trust that the subject may so occupy the attention of shippers, that some change may be made for the coming season.
—I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,

MERCATOR.

The Great Silk Case.

We have already reported, from the Shanghai papers the proceedings of the first four days in the case "Chung-paou-tso v. Jardine, Matheson & Co." The arrival of the Sunda has now furnished us with the remainder of the case the most important parts of which we will now reproduce:—

26th MARCH.

At the opening of the Court this morning Mr. PAUNCEFOTE called.

DAVID PETRIE.—I am book-keeper to Jardine, Matheson & Co., I know Chee-Quai. In the course of my duties I have had charge of the general account between Jardine, Matheson & Co. and Chee-Quai. The account is in my writing. This is the general account between them. I have compared it with E-kee, item by item, several times. The last time was early in January of this year. On such occasions Chee-Quai generally had documents with him; also in January on the last time of comparison a document in Chinese. I then handed him a balance sheet founded on this book. The balance sheet was my writing. Here it is. It shows a balance of Tls. 276,708.6. I went over all the items in this balance sheet with him. He objected to one of the items. That of Tls. 9,704.54. It is the difference between the cost and the proceeds of some teas shipped from Hankow. He did not agree to its being shipped on his account. He agreed to all the other items as correct. In fact, excepting that one item, he accepted the balance sheet. He compared accounts on this very book with me, recently, from time to time. The general account contains a special account called No. 4 silk account. I have checked this special account with E-kee, item by item. In this account he is credited on one side with the value of the silk delivered by him, and on the debit side he is debited with the payment on account of the silk. On the debit side, appear ten items of payments on silk accounts. Here are the vouchers for those payments.

Mr. MYBURGH remarked that no one of the vouchers was endorsed by Chee-Quai.

Examination continued.—This is No. 4 account. On the debit side are payments amounting to Tls. 548,667.6. On the credit side appear seventeen items of silk delivered to the value of Tls. 565,928. The balance is Tls. 17,260.4. Chee-Quai, in going over this No. 4 account, assented to its correctness.

Mr. MYBURGH objected to all this evidence as in no way affecting the plaintiff.

Mr. PAUNCEFOTE considered it would affect the plaintiff if he could shew that Chee-Quai was a principal in the matter.

Examination continued.—I produce vouchers for every one of the payments to Chee-Quai.

Mr. MYBURGH objected to the vouchers being put in, unless they could be shewn to have passed through Chee-Quai's hands, and to have been endorsed by him.

The CHIEF JUDGE said the evidence was valueless, unless Chee-Quai could be shewn to be a principal, and he took it down subject to this condition.

Mr. MYBURGH. The endorsements are by the compradore.

Mr. PAUNCEFOTE. The cheques were received by Chee-Quai in his hands, and in the course of business went back to Mr. Petrie; and Chee-Quai, as I shall shew, admitted them as payments.

Examination continued.—On Chee-Quai's credit side is an item of bales received 22nd December. I made the entry from the invoice book. These bales were shipped by the Eona to Hongkong on 22nd December. They are numbered J. M. 4,321—

Mr. MYBURGH objected to this evidence of the numbers on the bales, unless from the witness own knowledge. The witness stated it was not from his own knowledge.

Examination continued.—It was my duty to check the current account kept by Jardine, Matheson and Co., at the Ne-wo bank. I checked it at the end of each month with the shroff, Len-Esing. I last checked it on the 30th November with him.

Mr. MYBURGH. My friend discusses an account settled on 30th November, and the sale in question took place in December.

Mr. PAUNCEFOTE. As the case is not before a jury, perhaps your Lordship will admit the evidence for the present, subject to its liability to be hereafter dismissed from your Lordship's mind.

The CHIEF JUDGE admitted the evidence, subject only to its relevancy to be shewn hereafter.

Examination continued.—This is the paper which the shroff brought on 30th Nov. It shows a balance to Jardine, Matheson & Co., of Tls. 89,120.64. I have made up the cash account myself from 30th Nov. to 31st December. The shroff's account was not quite correct, so I only entered Tls. 89,032.34 to Jardine, Matheson & Co., I credited Jardine, Matheson & Co. with items to the amount of Tls.194,335.11. [In answer to a question from the Court, Mr. Pauncefote, said he would shew the accounts were admitted by Chee-Quai. All this evidence was admitted subject to the above stated condition of Chee-Quai being proved to be a principal.

Examination continued.—The amounts include two payments of Tls. 10,000 and Tls. 4,000 on the 5th and 27th December.

The CHIEF JUDGE.—This is an order to pay to the Ne-wo bank, not to pay to Jardine, Matheson & Co.

Mr. PAUNCEFOTE.—Mr. Whittall will, I dare say, explain this when he is being examined.

Examination continued.—For December I put various items to the amount of Tls. 269,000, to the debit of Jardine, Matheson & Co. including Tls. 100,000 and Tls. 75,000 as per vouchers. On 31st December there stood at credit of Jardine, Matheson & Co., Tls. 14,867.45. Chee-Quai agreed with me as to the correctness of this balance.

To Mr. MYBURGH.—The orders for Tls. 10,000 and Tls. 4,000, marked 25th and 27th, were made out by me on those days. I do not know when the Ne/wo books were removed and the doors of the bank shut. I did not know that orders for Tls. 100,000 and Tls. 75,000 had not been cashed. I first heard about the 25th probably, that the silkmen were claiming this money. I was told on the 25th, that there were no funds in the Ne-wo bank. I am not aware why the order for Tls. 4,000 was given to our shroff. I suppose it was given to meet some outstanding liabilities of the bank. I do not know and can't say what all these liabilities were. As to some of them, I had myself a private account. My private account was paid, but not, so far as I know, under that order for Tls. 4,000. As to the order of 27th—I was told the bank had then stopped. I was told that out of the order for Tls. 10,000 the Ne-wo bank had paid an account of Dr. Bell and some others. I have known Chee-Quai for about two years. He had very large dealings with our firm. He has been entrusted with sums of money for purchases I do not know that he was allowed commission. The accounts were settled by my taking from the books of the house the invoice cost of the goods, and placing against that the monies with which he had been entrusted. I never went into the question as to whether Chee-Quai charged a commission under the invoice charge. His purchases in Shanghai on account of the firm have also been to a very considerable extent. From the vouchers, I cannot say whether the purchases are town or country. Some of the vouchers state this; others do not. I do not recollect that these vouchers do not refer to purchases made on account of the firm. Chee-Quai had a bank on the E-wo premises, and was frequently in and out, so much so that, when I wanted to see him, I generally found him on the premises. In the house, and by myself, E-kee was considered an independent trader. E-kee and transactions with the house. I would rather say Chee-Quai was principal in the transactions to which these vouchers refer. As to up-country purchases I considered Chee-Quai a principal. I did not know on what terms Chee-Quai went into the country, or what arrangements there were as to prices. I found the result of the purchases entered in books, and was guided by such entries. I had not seen any contract between Jardine, Matheson & Co., and Chee-Quai. I stated the invoice price included all charges; what these charges were I don't know. There was a claim made by Jardine, Matheson & Co., against E-kee, in the Mixed Court, for teas. They were, I presume, contract teas. I think I have been told so. I do not recollect seeing the contract. I have not read any of the contract books referring to tea.

Mr. MYBURGH asked for the contract books, as they would shew E-kee was allowed a commission of two per cent. Notice had been given to produce them.

Examination continued.—On more than one occasion I may have heard E-kee spoken of as broker to our hong. I do not think Chinese have, on coming to make purchases, been invariably sent to E-kee. The bank balance on 30th November, in favour of Jardine, Matheson & Co., as given by the shroff, was as above. I took the accounts every month. I never inspected the coffers, but took the balance from the shroff's account. From my own books I know this balance to be correct. The balance of the bank account against Chee-Quai I cannot speak to. I do not know that the various large accounts of which you speak were to the debit of Chee-Quai. I knew nothing whatever of Chee-Quai's cash account. I do not know whether Mr. Whittall inspected the Ne-wo bank books for the purpose of ascertaining how Chee-Quai's account stood.

Re-examined.—Chee-Quai has never spoken about commission so far as I know. In the books, all that appears is a certain quantity of goods, and prices affixed to them. As far as I know, E-kee has been a principal selling to the firm. On Christmas day the Ne-wo bank-keeper mentioned to me that there was a noise among the silkmen because E-kee was in difficulties. I understood the Chinamen were clamouring for payment from E-kee. The shroff of the bank, on Christmas day, said he had no money in the bank. My private account at the Ne-wo bank was repaid me through the compradore. I gave an order, on Christmas day, for my balance to be taken out. The only account I saw of Ne-wo, was the cash account of Jardine, Matheson & Co. The bank people had cleared out by the end of December or beginning of January. Broker is a term given to Chinamen who deal with foreigners, whether they be principal or agent. I knew E-kee pretty well. He told me he had large transactions with other firms, in tea and silk. He has not spoken to me of transactions on his own account. I understood him to mean he dealt largely with the foreign community in tea and silk.

To the CHIEF JUDGE.—These amounts of Tls. 10,000 and Tls. 4,000 were charged to our account by the compradore. I believe sycee to the above amount was paid by the compradore into the bank. I drew out my balance on Christmas day, as the shroff told me there were no funds in the bank.

Mr. MYBURGH asked that the witnesses who had not yet been examined might be directed to leave the Court. This was accordingly done.

ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL.—I am a merchant. I know the plaintiff. I saw him at my house on Tuesday last. He came with an interpreter. They said to me that if Mr. J. Whittall would take Chee-Quai's assets over for Tls. 200,000, and would advance a further sum of Tls. 40,000 secured by the silk guild, they would finish the whole thing up as far as Jardine, Matheson and Co. were concerned. I was told about the nature and value of the assets.

To Mr. MYBURGH.—On the evening of the 19th I received a letter from Lo-yuen-yue (the interpreter). This is it—

19th March 1867.

MY DEAR MR. CAMPBELL,—You sent through your compradore that you wish to see me to-night at 8 o'clock, but I am sorry to inform you that I was prevented by the silk guild to go near you. Should Mr. Whittall have made a proposition, better for him to write to Mr. Mitchell or Mr. Myburgh and no doubt that on the part of their clients can easily be settled.

Yours very truly,
LO-YUEN-YUE.

Examination continued.—I saw Chee-Quai long before I saw the other silkmen. Several times I have been engaged in business with Chee-Quai and know him well. He expressed a desire to me to have this business settled before I saw the silkmen. Chee-Quai alone was the mover in this matter. He mentioned this arrangement to me before I saw Mr. Whittall. I saw Chee-Quai, then Mr. Whittall, and then the silkmen.

Mr. ROBISON was subpoenaed by the plaintiffs but as they decided not to call him, the Chief Judge told him he was entitled to his expenses. These, Mr. Myburgh said, would be $2 a day. The question though was not gone into.

Mr. PAUNCEFOTE stated that Mr. Robison might feel affronted under the circumstances, and called him.

J. R. ROBISON.—I am public silk inspector and broker. I recollect the 11th December last. I was at E-wo on that day. I had some communication with Mr. E. Whittall. I received instructions from him on business. To buy silk. In consequence, I saw E-kee or one of his shroffs. I am not quite sure where, on that day, and got them to send me in some musters. I went in the evening to E-kee's house. On my arrival there I first went into a large reception room where I have usually seen him on such occasions; instead of his coming out to me he asked me into his private room. It is not much larger than this witness box. He was seated there with the "long man" in the silk trade. The "long man" left as I entered. After that I sat down at the table. I made him offers for the silk, musters of which he had sent me. On that occasion I purchased Tzo-ling silk. I bought 30 bales of Tzo-ling that evening. Tzo-ling has the chop of a black horse. In pursuance of my contract on 11th December 30 bales of Tzo-ling were sent to E-wo. Only 15 answered to the musters. I therefore refused the other 15 bales unless he changed the price. This was on 20th December. He agreed to reduce the price. The original price was Tls. 520 a picul. The fifteen inferior bales were settled at Tls. 510. I subsequently bought 20 bales more of Tzo-ling for Jardine, Matheson & Co. from Chee-Quai, on the 20th I think. It is part of my duty to see to the numbering of the bales. The fifteen bales according to muster were marked 4322 to 4337. The fifteen and twenty at Tls. 510. 4338 to 4372. These 50 bales were the only two parcels of Tzo-ling I bought for Jardine, Matheson & Co. I saw to the shipping of these bales. They were shipped on the 20th in the Eona. I sent in an invoice to Jardine, Matheson and Co. of the purchase of these goods. This that you show me is the press copy of the invoice in my own writing. The usual commission in Shanghai for buying and inspecting is one per cent. That is my charge. Some persons charge half per cent. for inspecting only. I bought several parcels alone with Chee-Quai, among them the Tzo-ling. There was no one else in the room. Excepting perhaps some spirits. I have known Chee-Quai about ten years and have had several transactions with him. I have purchased from him for other firms besides Jardine, Matheson and Co. On the 11th December, or about that time, I bought from E-kee on Chapman, King's account. I was employed by them and bought from Chee-Quai. I got my one per cent on that occasion. Chee-Quai is a large speculator in different commodities in the market. Chee-Quai told me he had bought 300 bales as a speculation of his own. This was in Mr. Campbell's compradore's room, just after he had been shaved. He bought because he thought he said, the market would rise, and I inspected the bales he bought at his request, and gave them characters and valuations, not to him, E-kee, to Mr. Whittall. I do not know whether E-kee shipped any of these 300 bales. On the 11th December, I saw persons about E-kee's hong. I merely said chin-chin to them. A man sends you in a muster, if you like the silk you buy, and that man alone who sends in the muster you know in the transaction.

To Mr. MYBURGH. I have an office of my own. I have had it for 18 months. In some of the transactions during that time I have seen the silkmen at my office. Chee-Quai, too on more than one occasion. Mr. Whittall gave me an idea of the price at which to buy, on the 11th December. This was before noon. I do not recollect Mr. Whittall telling me to arrange with Chee-Quai. I will not swear that he did not mention Chee-Quai's name. I have known Chee-Quai as having had large transactions with Jardine, Matheson and Co., and other firms. His business with Jardine, Matheson and Co. may be larger than that with other firms. I am not sure whether, on the 11th, I saw E-kee or one of his shroffs. I saw the muster bales partly in the morning and partly in the afternoon, at Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s godowns. I do not recollect telling Chee-Quai how many bales I wanted. At the time of my saying I wanted silk I do not recollect Chee-Quai telling me he had any of his own. I have no reason to suppose Chee-Quai had bales of silk of his own on the 11th December. I swear that I do not know Chee-Quai chiefly as a broker. Of my knowledge I have known E-kee to have 50 bales in his godown. I have bought quantities of silk in E-kee's godowns of his own chop. I think his chop is known as a bad one. Of late years at all events. Some years ago I bought silk of E-kee's chop. At that time, about 1860 to 1862 I bought silk from Chee-Quai. How much I cannot tell, for I have bought at different times thousands of bales. I will swear there was no arrangement that I should go to E-kee's hong to meet the silkmen. I went about ten o'clock. At that time I was busy, so it was usual for me to go late. I have settled with E-kee at all sorts of places.—No silkmen were present that I knew of at the settlements. There may have been silkmen present. If Chee-Quai's walls are thick no one was within hearing.

E. WHITTALL.—I am a partner in Jardine Matheson and Co. In November I received instructions about the purchase of silk from my brother J. Whittall in Hongkong. In consequence, I sent for Mr. Robison and gave him orders for the purchase of silk, limiting him to a certain price. I gave orders to no one else in consequence of these instructions from my brother. About the 4th December, I gave orders to Mr. Robison to buy. In pursuance of this order Mr. Robision bought and invoiced silk to me. The invoice of bales of silk Mr. Robison bought for me has gone to Hongkong. This is a press copy of it. I have had many transactions in silk with E-kee. For market and up country purchases money was advanced to E-kee. He has never received commission or salary from our firm. I never gave E-kee orders to go into the market and buy silk on my account. On two occasions money was due to E-kee for silk. The order was handed into me by the shroff of the Ne-wo bank. I initialed it. One order says for silk "purchases," the others for silk "purchased." There is no difference in the meaning of the wording. Silk has been stored in our godowns by E-kee for purposes of safety and of getting advances on it. In such cases he pays godown rent, fire insurance, &c. In these two orders, the signature of Jardine, Matheson and Company is in my handwriting. I delivered the orders after I had signed them, I believe, to E-kee. I had no communication with E-kee, I think, on the subject of this order I gave to Mr. Robison. He told me silk was cheap. I referred him to Mr. Robison as our buyer. I first heard of the Ne-wo bank men having levanted, early in January, I think. One night about that time E-kee came to me. He looked frightened and sick, as if he had been smoking a good deal of opium. He said they, his creditors, I presume, had been to his house, broken his furniture and maltreated him, and asked me for protection. There were some people with him, I gave him to the butler. I went next day to H.B.M. Consul and asked if he would take charge of Ekee, as they were threatening his life. [E-kee had told me this.] He remained about a week with the butler and then disappeared. I enquired after him. I went to his house with Mr. Johnson. Before going I asked the Consul's leave. His house was surrounded by a mob of well dressed Chinamen, who shouted and behaved rudely. I asked for E-kee and was told to go to my lawyer. I declined doing this but went up and saw E-kee. When we got below we were attacked by the well dressed mob. I sat down; E-kee disappeared. I was struck on the head and then went away. I went to the Consulate and saw Mr. Mitchell there. I have not seen E-kee since. This took place one Saturday, about the middle of January. Before E-kee disappearing from our hong, he came to me with Chinese two or three times. They never spoke, they muttered, no conversation took place between us. I do not know why they came; on the second time of their coming they said E-kee owed them money. I was sorry, I said, as he owed me money. They asked me to assist them in getting E-kee to pay them. I was not asked by them, on that or any occasion to pay them. I have driven Chinamen off our premises stick in hand. I signed the two cheques of Tls. 10,000 and Tls. 4,000. E-kee gave me an order leading me to suppose he had been dealing with Chapman, King. I lent him money on the order. I paid monies to the cash account of the Ne-wo bank in December—Tls. 180,000 roughly. I was never asked by E-kee for commission.

To Mr. MYBURGH.—These orders have I separated represent purchases made by Mr. Robison on account of the firm. Silk is bought often before being shipped. The time we pay is when we buy. Sometimes a man wants his money before the silk is shipped. In such case he gets something on account. I have bought from E-kee about 1,300 bales this season I have been here more than three years. Chee-Quai was doing business with our house, I believe, when I came here. I knew him as doing business with us about three years ago. I do not know that E-kee was our agent. We advanced him money to buy goods in the country. He charged us with charges, as commission, on the cost. He was bound to account to us for the money in a way. He could not rightfully buy with our money for any one else. This that you hand me is one of our contracts.

24th May, 1866.

E-kee undertakes to buy silk in the country through Fahmen and Sing-chop-foo on account of Jardine, Matheson & Co., they advancing the money from time to time, and to render a particular account with cost and charges distinctly stated. [Here follow the particulars.]

Cross-Examination continued.—We have bought from Chee-Quai or through Chee-Quai as the case may be, to the extent of from Tls. 5,000,000 to Tls. 10,000,000. The total amount of our purchases from or through Chee-Quai in the Shanghai market during the last three years, I cannot tell from this book. It can be told, but by no one in the Court. Last year, the value of our purchases was Tls.420,000 from or through E-kee. 198,98, 59 and 59 bales, I think, were his property. He did not say they were his property. I will not swear that on the shipment of any particular parcel, Chee-Quai said it was his. On the formation of the Ne-wo partnership, between E-kee and Jardine, Matheson & Co., it was arranged that E-kee should pay in Tls. 50,000 as his portion of the capital. I do not know whether he has or has not paid this Tls. 50,000. Also I mean to say I do not know whether his debit balance was from Tls. 100,000 to Tls. 150,000, during the last year, I have never examined the books of the bank. They were to be examined once in three years. There was though a monthly inspection. No examination of the books has taken place shewing these debit balances. I had no reason to suspect last year that Chee-Quai was heavily indebted to the bank. I did not hear, so far back as June or July, that Chee-Quai had been a heavy loser in shirting or other speculations. When he came to me on the 11th December, I referred him to Mr. Robison. I did not tell him I wanted silk. E-kee did not come to me on the 12th or 13th December and ask for an advance to be handed to the silkmen. I granted the orders for Tls. 100,000 and Tls. 75,000 on the 24th December. I considered the bank then had funds. On the 25th I gave an order for Tls. 4,000. I was asked for it by E-kee, who told me it was to close accounts. He had not informed me there was no money in the bank, and that so the silkmen were without their money. I do not know that Ya-kee paid the silkmen who were clamorous. Chee-Quai never told me the silkmen wanted their money. He came into my office with the silkmen, and did not ask for the money. I did not ask what they wanted. They muttered something. They went away without my asking what they wanted. On the 25th I heard a rumour that E-kee had failed. On the 27th, I did not know the silkmen had applied to me for payment. Neither applied to me for payment of this silk. E-kee had been paid for it. On the 27th I thought the bank was all right and so believing I paid the Tls. 100,000 to E-kee. I cannot say whether E-kee received any of the Tls. 10,000. Dr. Bell was paid out of the Tls. 10,000, so was Mr. Petrie. I only heard this a few days ago, to my surprise. I did not advise these payments. I became possessed of E-kee's copy of the partnership, I do not know when. I am not aware that the bank has burst. No claims have been made upon me at all events. When E-kee came the first time with the Chinamen, they went away without saying anything. They never asked me when I was going to pay them. I had such confidence in E-kee that I never overhauled the books. Mr. Keswick, I should say, has certainly not promised E-kee a commission on all purchases. I have had correspondence on the subject of E-kee's indebtedness to our firm, after he broke; not before. I have no letter book in which E-kee's affairs are referred to. I have not press copies either. His affairs were not referred to before his failure by us. E-kee has not been spoken of to me as the E-wo broker. He was not on our premises more than other Chinamen. E-kee's copy of partnership deed was brought to me by the shroff of the E-wo bank, with tears in his eyes.

Re-examined.—The shroff took the partnership deed out of his stocking. He put it on my desk and I took it. No commission has been charged by E-kee. It is included in the purchase money by Chinese custom. The cheques for Tls. 100,00 and Tls. 75,000 I handed myself to E-kee.

To the CHIEF JUDGE.—Here is a cheque, Jardine, Matheson & Co.—pay to the Ne-wo bank Tls. 10,000. There is nothing to show, on the cheque, that it goes to Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s private account. If Jardine, Matheson & Co. owed the bank Tls 10,000; this cheque would liquidate the debt. Mr. Johnson would explain why the amount under the present circumstances would be credited to Jardine, Matheson & Co.

27th March.

At the opening of the Court this day Mr. PAUNCEFOTE said he intended producing vouchers to show that the whole of the silk account (No. 4) under which the fifty bales came, had been paid by cashed cheques on the Ne-wo bank.

Mr. MYBURGH.—As a partner in the bank in which there was no money, even if E-kee were authorised to receive for my client, it would be no payment to my client.

Mr. PAUNCEFOTE.—The agent E-kee, admitting him to be so, is the proper person to pay, and we shall show he has been paid in cash.

Before the witness was sworn, His LORDSHIP said he hoped he considered his oath binding on him.

KONG KING-SING.—I am compradore to Jardine, Matheson & Co. I know Low-Esing, the shroff of the Ne-wo bank.

The endorsements on the vouchers are made by one of the people of the Ne-wo bank. The writing of the endorsements is the same as that which has been on all other vouchers passed through the bank during the last eighteen months. Sing-hang is E-kee. It is his trading name. This writing of the endorsement on the orders for Tls. 10,000 and Tls. 4,000 is the same as that on the vouchers. The stamp on the orders is that of the Ne-wo bank. On the back of the orders for Tls. 10,000 was written—"Received from Kong-ou (Jardine, Matheson & Co's house account) Tls. 10,000," and the stamp of the Ne-wo bank affixed. Similarly with the order for Tls. 4,000. I have had conversation with the plaintiff in this action.

GEORGE BECH.—I keep the daily cash account for Jardine, Matheson & Co. I know that I handed to the bank shroff a draft for Tls. 29,500 from Yokohama on the Mercantile Bank. This would be paid in the ordinary course of business. It has been so paid. We did pay into the bank upwards of Tls. 100,000 to cash account up to 21st December. I handed this bill of lading for sycee to the bank shroff, for the purpose of collection and paying to Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s account the Ne-wo bank.

WOO-DEE-LYEN. I am the shroff of the Hongkong and Shanghai bank. I know this document.

Mr. MYBURGH asked to see the cheques, and acknowledged the payment into the Ne-wo Bank on the 7th December, by the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, of about Tls. 1,700. Also of Tls. 29,500 by the Chartered Mercantile Bank.

The CHIEF JUDGE remarked that if it were not too late he would recommend a compromise in the interests of trade and for other reasons.

The case, however, proceeded.

EMILE MAINTZ, partner in Reis and Co.—gave evidence to large transactions between Chee-Quai and his firm.

Mr. E. MOREL.—I am manager of the comptoir d'Escompte de Paris in Shanghai. I know E-kee. As manager I have had transactions with him. I consider him to be a silk merchant and general speculator. For the last two or three years I have discounted bills drawn against silk that I have known to be shipped by E-kee; and by the last mail in December, I discounted bills for E-kee drawn against 228 bales of silk. I have loaned to E-kee direct on bullion and merchandise. I dealt with E-kee in the transaction, as far as I know, as a manager of the bank would deal with any other merchant.

To Mr. MYBURGH.—For some time before I dealt with E-kee I knew he was doing business with Jardine, Matheson & Co. In consequence, I wrote to Jardine, Matheson & Co., and enquired as to his position and respectability at the request of some one here. They knew the man. I knew that E-kee as a silkman had several times sold large quantities of silk to Jardine, Matheson and Co. I have never asked E-kee whether he was principal in my dealings with him, and so can't say he was. I have always found it difficult to ascertain any Chinaman's position in Shanghai. I have not always looked upon him as a broker or middleman.

R. MONIER.—I have had some business dealings with E-kee. He is a broker. Sometimes he acts as broker. At other times he acts as a principal, for anything I know to the contrary.

R. MACKENZIE.—I am a bill broker. I have know E-kee three or four years. I have had dealings with him in Mexican and Carolus dollars. In June last I sold for E-kee eight lacs of Mexican dollars. From my experience I should say E-kee dealt in all articles of commerce. E-kee told me he had a large shipment of cotton to England and had bought largely in the shirting market. I have sold for him.

The evidence of some other mercantile men in Shanghai was taken to the same effect.

F. JOHNSON.—I am a partner in Jardine, Matheson & Co. E-kee settled the Ne-wo bank account with me every month. I took down the assets and liabilities of the bank as got from E-kee. He gave a statement of the mode in which he had invested the funds of the bank. This document in my own hand writing was made the first week in November. Then, there was in the bank cash and securities—lent Ningpo Bank Tls. 100,000 advances on goods Tls. 63,000, advances to Shanghai silk hongs Tls. 46,000, to Shanghai Banks Tls. 120,000, in cash Tls. 140,000. There was an amount of profit stated by E-kee to have been realized up to that time of Tls. 60,000. The liabilities balanced the assets. The profit to the bank was Tls. 60,000 according to E-kee. Before Mr. Keswick left in August last, every account with E-kee was adjusted. I never heard of E-kee's difficulties until the end of January.

To Mr. MYBURGH.—Since I have joined, in consequence of private advices, E-kee had never been sent into the market to buy for us.

Mr. JOHNSON also explained to the Chief Judge the mode in which the order for Tls. 10,000 had been paid.

The court now adjourned.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

Arrival of the Mail.

The Ottawa arrived yesterday morning with the London mails of February 26th but without any telegrams later than those already to hand. From the Home News of Feb. 26th we extract the following items of intelligence.

The Princess of Wales has given birth to a princess. The latest bulletin states that the condition of the royal mother and child is satisfactory.

A debate on the Mysore succession question has taken place in the House of Commons. Government have announced that they do not intend to annex Mysore on the death of the Maharajah but the succession of his adopted heir would depend much upon the results of his education.

The Fenian rising in Kerry has utterly failed. A few of the fugitive insurgents have been captured.

The Government have renewed the bill for suspending the Habeas Corpus Act in Ireland.

The new North German Parliament has been opened by the King of Prussia in person.

There has been great rejoicing throughout Hungary, on account of the restoration of the Hungarian constitution.

It is believed that the intention of the American Congress to impeach President Johnston will be abandoned.

The trial of Admiral Persano has been further postponed until the 26th March.

It is stated that the negotiations between Italy and Rome are approaching a satisfactory termination.

The bill legalising the Federation of the British American Provinces has gone through a second reading in the House of Lords.

The American Congress has adopted a bill, establishing martial law in ten of the Southern States.

The last French soldier has quitted Mexico. The prospects of the Emperor are uncertain.

The rumor relating to the death of Dr. Livingston, appears to have arisen from the following letter which appears in an African paper from Dr. Kirk to Sir T. Maclear.

British Consulate, Zanzibar,
20th December, 1866.

We have sad news, which reached on the 5th December, when nine of the Johanna men who accompanied the doctor came back reporting that three days' journey West of Nyassa, after having crossed it a little north of where I turned in 1861, they were suddenly attacked by the Mariti, an emigrant race of Zulus who passed thither about 40 or 50 years ago from the country west of Sofala. The band was of Azitu, or Northern Zulus. Zitu and Zulu are said to have been brothers, who founded tribes about 200 years ago.

They say that Livingstone and party were walking quietly along about 9 A.M., in a bush country, when suddenly a numerous band of these men appeared, and without warning attacked. Unchecked by seeing some fall by the rifle, they came on, and cut down Dr. Livingstone with one blow of a battle axe in the back of the neck.

I fear the tale is true, although I put little faith in the veracity of the Johanna men. The only motive could be to invent a story to account for their return; they certainly tell one which makes them all cowards. I must think, had it been an invention they might have arranged one more favourable to themselves.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Hongkong, Monday Evening.

The arrival of the mail has engaged the attention of a large portion of the commercial community to-day but notwithstanding this there has been a slight improvement in the volume of business over that of the last few days. The unfavorable news brought from Shanghai by the Sunda caused a decline in the opium market and prices opened at $595 for new, $585 for old Patna $570 for Benares and $760 for Malwa, but a demand, principally from the Chinese and from purchasers for Macao soon caused rates to rally again to $608 for New Patna, the market however slightly receded again closing at $602½ for new Patna, $590 for old and $570 for Benares. Malwa is difficult to move at $760. The Ottawa brings 1,407 chests and the last Bombay price was Rs. 1,660 per chest. Cotton has been in fair demand and a considerable quantity of Indian staple has been placed at slightly better figures. Sales include 1,082 bales Bengal at $18.50 to $21.50, 100 bales inferior Shanghai at $20.70 and 40 bales Tientsin at $34. In the market for imports the only noticeable feature is an advance in Grey Shirtings 2,500 pieces 8/4 having been placed at $3.50 to $3.55. Further sales are reported of 400 pieces fine White Shirtings at $6.00 500 pieces 7lbs. T-Cloths at $2.62½ and 1000 pieces Turkey Reds at $4.00. There have been considerable sales of Rice, but prices show a material decline, transactions include 22,000 piculs Saigon Rice at $1.55 to $1.83, 11,000 piculs milled Siam Rice at $1.42. Further sales of Produce embrace 100 piculs Siam Pepper at $6.18, 1,500 bags White Sugar at $6.20 to $6.70, 260 piculs No. 1, White Sugar at $8.25 and 500 piculs Green Peas at $2.30. In Bullion there has been some business done at 9 per cent premium for Sycee and 11 per cent premium for Bar Silver, a small lot of Bank shares were placed at 8 and 8 per cent discount for old and new respectively. A report from Shanghai advises that the steamer United Service has been purchased by the opposition Steam Navigation Company for Tls. 25,000.

There is little commercial news of importance by the mail. The Bank rate remained at 3 per cent although the price in open market for short bills was 2½ to 2¾ and for six months selected bankers bills 2¾ to 3 per cent. The bidding for £350,000 in bills on India took place on the 20th February, and the minimum price was fixed at 1s. 11d. or an advance of about ⅛ per cent. There was little business doing in stocks, consols were quoted 91 to 91⅛. The Liverpool

Cotton market was dull with a declining tendency. The Manchester market for Cotton manufactures was also inactive, prices were somewhat depressed owning to Cotton being easier. Tea was quiet but prices were generally well maintained. Silk had improved and was in better demand.

From Singapore we have advices of the termination of the Mona v. Agamemnon case by a decision in favor of the latter vessel, but the amount of damages had not been fixed. The following is the concluding clause of the judges decision:—I think upon the whole that the collision was owing wholly and solely to the Mono, and I must therefore pronounce against her with costs. To hold otherwise would be to hold that one ship is to be at liberty to violate every rule of the road, and that the other which suffers from the violation, is to be denied all compensation if her master has neglected in a sudden emergency any one course or manoeuvre which the most consummate prudence and reflection would suggest as most advisable.

PART FIRST,

OF A NEW

ANGLOCHINESE DICTIONARY QUARTO,

BY THE

REV. W. LOBSCHEID.

COURT AND PUNTI DIALECTS.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE.

THIS WORK was commenced in November, 1864, the computation of the author then being that it could be comprised in one thousand four hundred pages, and would occupy two years. Many unlooked for obstructions, chiefly of a typographical nature, materially retarded the progress of the work in the first instance, and these being overcome, the author discovered that he had underestimated the extent and the importance of the vast task he had undertaken, and that it would occupy fully double the time and space which he had at the outset computed.

The price of the book complete will be $30, and it will be published in four parts at $7.50 each.

The publication of a work of such magnitude, and presenting so many and such varied obstacles, seldom falls to the limited resources of one single individual, as occurs in this case. The first part of the work is now issued, partly at the request of the author and partly to afford the Foreign Community of China an opportunity of extending that assistance to the publisher, which under the circumstances is usually so freely accorded.

The Price of the book complete will be $30, and it will be published in four parts at $7.50 each. But this objection presents itself to the sale of the parts separately, should the purchaser of one or more parts not take the others, a number of incomplete, and consequently valueless, copies will be left on the publisher's hands. To remedy this objection, in consideration of the circumstances already alluded to, is hoped that those who see fit to patronise the undertaking by purchasing the first part, will not object to signing arrangement to take the remaining parts as they appear, or should they prefer it, to pay for the entire work in advance.
